CHILDREN GETTING BACK TO SCHOOL—WATCH THEIR EYES

The long evenings are upon us. The lamp, the book, and the paper all mean eyestrain in some measure. Therefore it follows—eye-care.

How people differ in their estimate placed upon their vision. Some are willing to stagger along with about twenty-five per cent of sight or less, bumping into nearly every one they meet, perfectly satisfied. Are you?

THERE ARE SOAPS AND SOAPS

All look pretty much alike, but a little chemical testing shows great differences. Some too alkaline, some too acid, some hardly soap at all.

Now we can't make toilet soap conveniently, but we can buy the right kind and know it is right when we buy it.

Almond Meal Toilet Soap has been tested in this hard water and gives satisfaction.

We also carry a large line of leading brands of Toilet Soaps.

A RESIDENT FOR THE WINTER—Miss Josephine Shum, a trained nurse of Grand Rapids, Mich., has arrived in the city and will remain during the winter.

THE SCHOOL OF MUSIC—Wednesday the winter term of the Arizona School of Music will open and enrollment of new pupils may be made at the school on that date. The term just closed has been a most successful one for the institution.

DONAU HOME—Alfred Donau has returned from Europe, hale and hearty, but only to find that his pet dog had died and in his absence. Phoenix fanatics are laying in a new stock of dogs against Mr. Donau's next visit to the capital, when they hope to land him again.

COUNTRY CLUB WATCH NIGHT—The members of the Country Club have arranged to keep an eye on the old year as she goes out tonight to see that she carries away nothing that does not belong to him. Those who desire to take part in the espionage may leave the Hotel Adams by a bus which will start at 8 o'clock.

A HUNTING TRIP—A hunting party composed of Sidney Osborn, Clarence Hefflin, Isadore Melzer and Arthur Lohr left yesterday afternoon for the Agua Fria river where they will spend today and New Year's day slaughtering game. They were equipped with a camping outfit and had planned a most enjoyable outing.

A TURKEY DINNER—Mrs. J. W. Owens and Miss Anna Ellis of South Third avenue yesterday gave an elaborate turkey dinner to a number of their friends. Their guests were Rev. and Mrs. Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hawkins, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Laurie, R. S. Stevens, Miss Nellie Simpson of Los Angeles, Miss Beatrice Eberhart and Miss Essex.

A SHORTAGE OF FUEL—Among the other institutions of the city where fuel in large amounts is used that is now suffering from the coal famine is the territorial asylum for the insane. Dr. Ray Ferguson, the superintendent, has been forced again to resume the burning of wood in order to heat the institution. The boilers at the asylum are so constructed that wood or coal may be used as fuel, a particularly fortunate circumstance in the existing conditions.

PHOENIX ACADEMY IMPROVEMENTS—The new wing built on the Phoenix Academy and Business College is now finished and ready for occupation. Building operations have been going on for about three months, as the work had to be done out of school hours. W. H. Kay, the landlord of the property, has taken great interest in the work personally and no expense has been spared to meet every requirement of a modern and up-to-date business school. Many visitors, including some of the business men in town, have expressed the opinion that the new class room is the best lighted and most comfortable class room possible. On Wednesday the new offices will be occupied and already it looks as though the new premises will soon be too small. The attendance in the commerical department is double that of last year and many new pupils are entering, which is the best possible compliment that could be given to the Phoenix Business College, and shows better than anything else the confidence of the people of Phoenix. Mr. Kay says he stands ready to build more class rooms if the present building is found in any way to be too small for the growing college.

FINE CHRISTMAS PRESENT—Mrs. Henrie Herman of Tempe received a Christmas present which she appreciates most highly. It was a draft for $100 from Tyrrell Ward & Co., a Chicago mail order house, for which she is an agent. She was one of ten to receive $100 prizes, there being one $1000 prize and one $500 prize also, as well as ten $50 prizes. She received a very congratulatory letter also for her successful work for the preceding nine months.

GOLDWATER WILLIAMS—Mr. R. M. Goldwater of Phoenix and Miss Josephine Williams will be united in marriage at Prescott, tomorrow, New Year's day. The ceremony will take place at St. Paul's Episcopal church and Rev. Father Bennett will officiate. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Goldwater will leave for the east and will spend several weeks in New York. They will be at home in Phoenix about April 1. A number of friends from Phoenix will leave in the morning to attend the ceremony.

BISHOP SCANLON GUEST OF ARIZONA

The Distinguished Prelate of Salt Lake Yesterday Became a Guest at Castle Hot Springs.

Phoenix will in all probability be paid a visit at an early date by the Right Rev. Lawrence Scanlon, Catholic bishop of Salt Lake and one of the most prominent officials of the church in this country. He has for several days past been visiting at Prescott, and yesterday came as far towards this city as Hot Springs Junction from which point he went to Castle Hot Springs where he will remain some time. This is not the first visit of Bishop Scanlon to Castle Hot Springs; he having spent some time at the springs several years ago when he paid this city a very pleasant visit of several days. On this occasion he made many friends in the city who will be pleased to learn of his prospective visit.

It is due to the efforts put forth by Bishop Scanlon that the handsome St. Mary's cathedral at Salt Lake, completed but a few months ago was constructed. It is said to have cost in the neighborhood of $300,000. He was appointed pastor of Salt Lake City and of the whole territory of Utah in August of 1872. Later, in 1887, he was consecrated bishop of Laramie (Asia Minor) and vicar apostolic of Utah. In 1891 he was appointed the first bishop of Salt Lake and has since made that city his home.

His rise in the church has been rapid. He was born in county Tipperary, Ireland in 1842, and was educated in the common schools of the city of Dublin until he was eighteen years of age. Later he attended All Hallows college, Dublin, from which institution he graduated. He was ordained on June 24th, 1868 and had prior to beginning his work in Salt Lake been pastor of churches in San Francisco and other California points.

HE MISSED PHILLIPS BY A MERE HAIR

Constable Proops Was Directed to the Place of His Hiding a Half Hour After He Was Gone.

Constable Harry Proops came within an ace last night of capturing the long wanted J. C. Phillips the saloon keeper who assisted in the escape of Lee Redwine. Word was brought to the officer that Phillips was hiding in a house near the "Y" of the M & P.

road in the southeastern part of town and had been there almost ever since his curious disappearance from the Butts home on South Seventh avenue. It was also stated that Mrs. Redwine, whose departure from town was reported three weeks ago was nursing him.

The officer's informant also told him that it was understood that Phillips would try and get away from town last night. The constable hurried to the house designated by his informant and learned that Phillips had actually been there and had left not more than half an hour before.

The officer further learned that Phillips had fully recovered from the injuries he sustained in a runaway on the night of the flight of Redwine so that he is now in good shape to travel. No other trace of him or of Mrs. Redwine could be secured in that neighborhood last night. Of course Phillips could not have escaped toward the south and it is thought that he would anyway try to take a train near Phoenix. Now that he has broken cover the hunt which was abandoned a month ago after the officers had followed several false scents will probably be taken up again.

THE PUBLICITY MAN.

"On the whole the publicity man is to be welcomed. If he did not fill an actual want, he could not make a living. He saves corporations much trouble. The result of his work is to keep the public better informed than it ever was before of what is going on in the great industries of the country. His copy is worth reading, or it would not be printed, and he would have to go out of business. From the newspaper's point of view, his entry as a factor in modern business is a good thing because he is always accessible, while the man higher up is, as likely as not, unapproachable.

"It is fairly evident that the publicity man has come to stay. The importance of the press, the dominating force of great corporations in modern life, and the insistence of the public upon knowing about these corporations, have brought him into being. That he flourishes is really an impressive demonstration of the power of public opinion."—(From "System.")

BELGIUM'S PUBLIC HOUSES.

Belgium, where public libraries are almost unknown, has 190,000 public houses. That means one public house for thirty-six inhabitants, or one public house for twelve men above 17 years of age, the publican included. During the last fifty years the population has increased 50 per cent, and the number of public houses 28 per cent.
